

Associate in Science (835)

This program prepares students to transfer to four-year institutions to pursue a bachelor's degree in athletic training. Students who have already chosen the university to which they plan to transfer should consult that institution's catalog or department advisor and an SVCC counselor or academic advisor in planning their program. Individualized articulation sheets for some universities are available in the counseling office.

Work and Employment

Athletic trainers work for high schools, colleges, universities, professional athletic teams, the armed forces, sports medicine clinics, recreation clubs, resorts and camps. Athletic trainers make sure sport players are in the best physical condition and are able to withstand the rigors of competition. Trainers determine the physical condition of athletes and recommend exercises that will increase their strength and flexibility and then correct any weaknesses.

Special Considerations

Athletic trainers are certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA). Candidates must have a bachelor's degree in a NATA-approved program, at least two years of experience under the direct supervision of a NATA-certified athletic trainer, and must pass a written and an oral examination. Most states have taken action to license athletic trainers.
