

SPRING 2018 STUDENT ACTIVITIES-FREE EVENTS!

Wed. Jan. 10

Interactive Animal Show - The animal world is far more expansive than can be expressed in words! Knowing as much as we do about them now, there are still lots of undiscovered species and mysteries unsolved. If you would like the opportunity to see, touch, or learn about exotic animals and laugh while doing so, don't miss this show! 12:15pm-1:15pm in the Dillon Mall.

Wed. Jan. 17

Spring SaukFest - Whether in a student organization, or just a student looking to find ways to get involved, this event should definitely be a part of your schedule on January 17! Please stop by the D/W Malls and Gym between 11:30am-1:30pm to enjoy FREE food, inflatable games, and to learn about the different resources available at Sauk! FOR SAUK STUDENTS ONLY.

Wed. Jan. 24

Comedian Warren B. Hall - Simply put; Warren B Hall is not what you're expecting. He purposely avoids using the white vs black angle done by many mainstream black comedians. Daring to be different, Warren chooses to focus on funny! Earlier this year Warren was seen on the FOX TV show "Laughs", he is also a regular on the Bob and Tom Morning Show, and has gone overseas to perform for our troops stationed in Iraq, Kuwait and Afghanistan. His style is original, relatable and definitely funny. 12:15 - 1:15 PM in the Cafeteria.

Thu. Feb. 1

Magician Trent James - Trent is bringing a fresh new feel to the "classic magic show". His high-energy performance combines mind-boggling magic with gut busting humor. He has received top awards from both The International Brotherhood of Magicians and The Society of American Magicians, as well as being the youngest recipient of The Milbourne Christopher Award (Past winners Included David Copperfield and Penn and Teller). 7pm in the Mathis Theatre.

Fri. Feb. 9

Be Less Petty The Workshop by Writer, Speaker and Comedian, Kellye Howard - Most of us at times lose sight of the things that make life so wonderful. We crave material possessions and social popularity in search of lasting happiness and joy. At the core of our being, we know those things will not bring us the fulfillment we seek. Happiness is chosen not found. Even on days when you don't feel your best - you can be happy! It starts with being less petty with yourself and your time. Join this program and learn how to be happy when the world around you breeds negativity. This program will end with 30 min. of stand-up comedy that you don't want to miss! 10am - 1:30pm in 1K4. FOR SAUK STUDENTS ONLY. Lunch provided. *RSVP REQUIRED by Feb. 2 to ana.s.salgado@svcc.edu or 815-835-6432.

Mon. Feb. 12

Invisible Disabilities by Christina Irene - One in 10 people have an invisible disability – a lifelong illness that is not immediately recognizable to onlookers but affects daily life. Chronic disease, dietary limitations, emotional disorders, learning differences, and other "invisible" conditions affect interpersonal relationships. Get a crash course on these conditions, coping skills, support strategies, and even a little inspiration. Whether you have an invisible disability or not, you will take something away to help yourself as well as those around you. 12:30 - 1:30 PM in 1K4.

Wed. Feb. 14

Pizza with the Prez – Join SVCC President, Dr. David Hellmich for pizza and casual conversation. Dr. Hellmich will give a brief college update and answer questions from students. 12:30-1:15pm in 1C1/1C3. FOR SAUK STUDENTS ONLY. *RSVP REQUIRED by Feb. 7 to ana.s.salgado@svcc.edu or 815-835-6432.

Mon. Feb. 19

Blood Drive Every minute of every day, someone needs a blood transfusion. Give the gift of life! 9:00am - 3pm in the Dillon Mall.

Wed. Feb. 21

Diversity Presentation by Dr. Jodi Merriday - an engaging Multicultural and Diversity Facilitator and Social Justice Ambassador who customizes educational programming and conversations with students about multiculturalism and diversity to foster inclusion and tolerance. Dr. Merriday will provide an overview of class(ism), rac(ism), sex(ism), able(ism), homophobia and other ISM's to equip students with knowledge and skills. This program provides a safe space for students to have dialogue about controversial current events and personal experiences. The educational outcomes of this session include: 1) increasing cultural awareness; 2) enabling understanding, tolerance and appreciation of difference; and 3) strengthening the capacity of students to respond to each other with sensitivity and cultural competency. 12:30-1:30PM in 1K4.

Wed. Mar. 21

Sauk's Talent Show - Are you a Sauk student with a talent? If so, sign up to perform! Contestants will be judged on overall performance, audience response, stage appearance, originality and personality. Stop by the Student Activities Office 1F19 with any questions. Prizes will be awarded to the top 3 performers. 12:30-1:30pm in the Dillon Mall.

Thu. April 5

Dance Party with AY MusiK "The Battery Tour" - AY decided to bring mini concerts to street corners across America to showcase his music directly to the people. Each concert is powered by batteries hence the name "The Battery Tour", a social music movement that is a dance party, open mic night and concert rolled into one. He has appeared on The X Factor and has opened for Wiz Khalifa, Shaggy, Aaron Carter, T-Pain, Flo-Rida & Time Flies. FOR SAUK STUDENTS ONLY. 6:30PM-9:30PM in the Gym.

Fri. April 20
